

KAW Projects: Brief reports

Kaw Valley Seeds Project: The Kaw Valley Seeds project is currently on hold. Dan Bentley and Pam Lovett are the officers, and we still have the seeds on ice. Perhaps we will have a seed exchange in the fall. In the meantime the Seed Fair occurs every spring, and it was a great success again this year (the KVSP is no long a sponsor of this event).

The Bill Hatke Project: Started soon after Bill Hatke's death in 2007, this project is devoted to publishing his writing and that of other bioregionally allied people. As chief editor, I threw myself at the task of transcribing and editing Bill's work for several years. Now, after a break, I'm on it again and there will be publications soon: first a Bill Hatke Reader (an anthology of the different kinds of writing Bill did) and later there will be at least two novels and other surprises. In the meantime you can check out the website, www.billhatke.wordpress.com . Also to be published by the Bill Hatke Project is an anthology of the writings of Mark Larson. You can find some pictures and samples of Mark's writing at: www.marklarson.wordpress.com

While you're in the neighborhood you might also like to take a look at some of these sites which I have created:

[ Of course you are always welcome to have a blast from the past at:

www.kawcouncilarchives.wordpress.com or www.atcenter.wordpress.com (the Appropriate Technology Center was the progenitor of KAW Council)

-  [www.johnlundmark.wordpress.com (A photo-archive of some of John Lundmark's amazing photos.)
-  [www.mercarchives.wordpress.com (An archive of photos and written materials related to the Community Mercantile, Lawrence Ks.
-  [www.lawrencekansas1970s.wordpress.com (A photo-archive of materials relating to Lawrence in the 1970s.
-  [www.kansasvistas.wordpress.com (A strictly personal view of Kansas through D. Bentley's photos)

~ Daniel Bentley

Daniel Bentley writes of himself: LOVING: Kat, cats, family and friends, nature, photography, life drawing, writing poetry, memoirs and novels, recording things, reading biographies and history, growing, preparing and eating delicious food, keeping house, yard and gardens, studying plant behavior, Lawrence, Kansas area (hate the urban sprawl), the beauty of Lane and Gove counties Kansas (where I grew up among fossils).